Organization Profile

The Dallas-Fort Worth Hospital Council, a non-profit trade organization, unites North Texas hospitals and industry leaders to advance quality healthcare in our region. With more than 44 years of collaboration and driven by elite members, we provide education sessions, networking opportunities and competitive intelligence. The Dallas-Fort Worth Hospital Council is the only hospital council in Texas, governed by a 14-member Board of Trustees, with a focus and activities that are influenced by the daily needs of hospitals.

- Our mission: to enhance hospital value by promoting patient safety and cost effective, quality healthcare in the region.
- Our vision: to be recognized as the resource for advocacy, communications and education for hospitals in North Texas.
- Our value proposition: supporting member hospitals by (a) creating innovate solutions through collaboration, education and coordination; (b) serving as advocates for hospital issues while balancing demands of the region; (c) providing accurate and timely information to members; and (d) improving the workforce within the region.

Foundation Profile

The DFWHC Foundation, a 501(c)(3), operates under the Dallas-Fort Worth Hospital Council umbrella. Established to answer the growing need in healthcare for high quality, standardized data to measure value and quality improvements, the DFWHC Foundation today has expanded to include community health, research and workforce initiatives.
